Autumn Term 2- Week 5

Head of School Message

This week we finally received the letter from Ofsted following our recent monitoring visit. It identified that leaders are taking effective action to remove any elements of inadequate from the school. It commented positively on the changes we have made to behaviour, maths and KS2 reading. It acknowledged the hard work we have put into improving the wider curriculum subjects. I am extremely proud of the staff, children and parents who have come together to bring about this change. We look forwards to the next stage and another potential visit in the Summer term. The letter is available on our website, if you missed the email.

Next week we head to the Hall for Cornwall for our Christmas treat. There is a letter coming home today which contains all of the information. Please note that children will require a packed lunch for that day. The school can provide them for those who are in receipt of Free school meals. Please fill out the form at the bottom of the letter and return it to school as soon as possible.

Finally a huge thank you to the Friends of Tregolls for a magical Christmas fair. Their hard work and dedication really does provide the children with exciting opportunities and events. We have raised a huge £600. Thank you to those who donated, helped run or attended the event.

Have a lovely weekend,
Mr Rees
